PROJECTS

Contact Manager | Java

April 2020 – May 2020

- A command-line contact manager written in Java, utilizing Object-oriented programming.
- The purpose of the application was to practice sorting data, reading from a file, and Object-oriented programming.
- Implemented features like alphabetization of contacts, searching by name, removing contacts, and a auto-saving feature on exiting the app.
- Designed as a command style app for ease of use.

Discord Chat Bot | Python, Discord.py

August 2019 – September 2019

- This project is something that was built off of curiosity my freshman year. I'm a huge fan of the Discord chatting platform. So, as a way to automate my chat rooms I researched and built this bot.
- Implemented features like banning members, kicking members, clearing past messages from the server, and much more!
- The project utilizes the Discord.py Library.

Personal Website | HTML, CSS

September 2019 – October 2019

- Used HTML to create a 'about me' landing page that includes quick links to my projects and a small about me section.
- I utilized CSS to add a visual appeal and overall give it a much more modern look.
- This is a on-going project. I plan on adding on to it as I gain more front-end development experience.
- Hosted through Amazon Web Services (AWS).
